

Burlington English Newsletter

July 2023

Hello Arkansas Friends and happy July! Summer is here and Burlington has all the professional development resources to assist your prep and planning needs. In this month's newsletter, we highlight how to reset your teacher In Class Lessons (ICL), different training options, and some insight into our ICL Search feature found in Burlington Core. Don't forget that I am always ready and available to help you during the summer! You can click HERE to schedule a training with Tad or reach out at tad.m@burlingtonenglish.com or 916.531.4388.

Are your students interested in the culinary or hospitality field? Be sure to share our cooks and hospitality resources in English for Specific Careers where they can find support in going for an interview, training and safety, on the job, and more. Don't forget to check out the Teacher's Notes in the Worksheets Component; they are an excellent guide to help you and your students get the most out of these resources.

Teaching Tips

While most teachers are out on summer break, we know that some are still teaching and/or prepping for the upcoming school year. With that in mind, we wanted to send a quick reminder about our helpful ICL Search Feature in Burlington Core. Planning just got so much easier with the ability to search by lesson type, correlation, workplace readiness, EL Civics / Life Skills, and education and training in each level of Burlington Core.
